

33,000 Planes, Air Supremacy Asked In Bill

House Gets 12½-Billion Dollar Appropriation With Demand For Quick Action; Allies Must Take Air Control, Lawmakers Told

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The house heard a solemn appeal today for speedy action on a $12,525,872,474 appropriation for 33,000 new planes to help achieve control of the air over the Russian front, the Mediterranean and the Pacific for the United States and its allies.

Opening debate on the unprecedented appropriation—the largest single military fund in the history of congress—Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the house appropriations committee told his colleagues:

"The whole issue of this war depends on taking and holding control of the air in every theater of the war."

Cannon noted that the 3,000 planes to be provided would by no means achieve President Roosevelt's goal of 60,000 planes this year and 125,000 in 1943.

"This is not to carry out that part of the President's program," Cannon said. "The principal purpose is to continue production at the present rate. Unless this money is provided, we will reach a peak of production in August."

And he told of a serious dislocation in the assembly line ahead in industry—assembly lines that have been operating on automobiles, refrigerators and many other conveniences "are dead today."

"We are producing an ever increasing number of the finest kind of planes in the world," Cannon told the house, in discounting public criticism of American aircraft production.

"Now we do not deprecate criticism," he said. "We invite it. But—and no doubt there has been some waste, some excess profits, some lost motion—economy and war production do not get together, and we must expect that there will not be 100 efficiency."

Speed Is Chief Objective

"Our principal objective," he shouted, "is to get those planes over there, and get them over there in time."

He told the house that General MacArthur's "gallant little force of men, defending the Stars and Stripes on Luzon," were not worried about the cost of materials, that they wanted only the tools with which to fight.

In response to a question concerning the nation's total planes Cannon said he could not disclose secret testimony before the committee. But he added: "If we had sufficient airplanes, the enemy never would have landed in the Philippines. The British wouldn't have lost two capital ships; Singapore wouldn't be fighting a last desperate battle, and the problem of defending Australia would be disposed of."

Strong endorsement of the plane program likewise came from the Republican side of the attentive house.

Rep. Taber (R-NY) ranking minority committee member, who has been ill, received an ovation as he said:

"The critical situation our forces in the Far East are facing is sufficient argument for passage of funds to implement our war activity to its very immediate extent."

REPORT SUBMITTED BY COUNTY SEALER

LISBON, Jan. 23.—County Sealer of Weights and Measures Dane D. Gray, has filed his annual report with George E. Kryder, chief of the division of foods and dairies at Columbus, showing 3,327 inspections of scales, weights and gasoline and grease pumps, in which 28 were condemned, 21 repaired and 3,278 sealed.

During the year, 4,000 berry boxes, 2,000 milk bottles and 326 oil bottles were inspected and approved, and out of 585 packages reweighed, 576 were accepted and 10 rejected.

An inspection of 54 loads of coal around 51 cwt., and three short weight. However, no prosecutions or reprimands resulted from the findings. Grafton stated, as merchants' cooperation was very satisfactory.

AUSTRALIANS PREPARE FOR JAPS' THREAT

Oriental Reported On New Guinea and Northern Solomon Islands

CITIES BLACK OUT IN MAINLAND AREAS

Landings: Put Japs Within Bombing Reach of Australia

(By Associated Press)

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 23.—Sea-borne Japanese troops have invaded Australian territory, landing presumably under cover of naval guns and carrier-based aircraft on New Guinea and in the northernmost Solomon Islands, 2,500 miles from Tokyo, it was announced officially today.

On the mainland of Australia, now within close bomber range of the Japanese landings, blackouts were ordered in all cities, militia manned the beaches, a million gas masks were ordered from Britain, and the national holiday, Australia day, Jan. 26, was cancelled.

Landing Site Not Disclosed

Where the Japanese landed on half-Australian, half-Dutch New Guinea directly north of Australia was not disclosed immediately.

Deputy Prime Minister Francis Forde announced that the only confirmed landing in the Bismarck archipelago east of New Guinea was at Kietia, principal city on Bougainville at the northern end of the Solomon island chain.

Kietia is 250 miles southeast of Rabaul, capital of New Britain where radio communications with Australia were broken yesterday when 11 Japanese ships were seen offshore.

A later message, however, indicated that the ships—five troop transporters, three cruisers and other vessels—had not entered Rabaul harbor up to 7 a. m. today (4 p. m. EST, Thursday). The ships first were sighted 45 miles offshore 18 hours earlier.

Aerial Activity Reported

Japanese aerial activity was reported throughout the morning along the northeast coast of New Guinea. Bulolo reported planes overhead at 9:20 a. m. and the radio station there went off the air. Gasmata on the southeast coast also reported hearing planes overhead.

Forde declared Australia was facing "the most serious threat in her history" but said that with the help of her Allies "we will clear the seas and land of the Japanese menace."

"We are ready. We shall give battle to the best of our ability wherever we fight."

"At this moment," Forde added, "Japan's attacking bases are within bombing reach of Australia."

"She has achieved air strength powerful enough to devastate our cities and industrial centers unless opposed in the battle areas with adequate weapons, machines and tools."

OLIVER P. ASHEAD STRICKEN AT WORK

Oliver P. Ashead of the Ellsworth road, a cost accountant for the Deming Co., died suddenly of a heart attack at the Deming office at 8:40 a. m. today. He was about 60.

A resident of Salem for 32 years, Mr. Ashead had been an accountant at the Silver Manufacturing Co. for 30 years, working at the Deming plant for the past two years.

Born Feb. 2, 1882, at Camden, N. J., he was the son of Benjamin and Avelina Ashead. He came to Salem from Camden.

He was a member of Salem City Lodge, F. & A. M., and the Presbyterian church.

Surviving are his wife, Sara; two sons, Dudley F. of Salem, J. Howard of Arcadia, Calif.; one grandchild; three sisters, Hannah S. and Elma Ashead of Pasadena, Calif., and Mrs. Frank Erickson, also of Pasadena.

The body was taken to the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Forum Is Scheduled

The third meeting of the Columbus County Rural Forum will be held at 8 p. m. Monday, January 26, in court room No. 2 in Lisbon. For the first hour the committee has planned for a colored movie on the subject, "Save the Soil for Son," in which erosion and erosion control practices are explained.

For the second hour, I. J. Vorn-dran will discuss "Faxes—Where They Come From and How They Are Spent."

AKRON, Jan. 23.—Juanita McDonald, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. McDonald of Bar-berton, was killed when her automobile skidded and struck a utility pole.

MACARTHUR HAMMERS BACK JAPS

The Road Back—Some of the 25,000 Axis Prisoners British Take In Libya

This long line of German and Italian prisoners taken by the British in the Libyan campaign is only part of the bag of 25,000 claimed by the British. In the background is the harbor of Tobruk, whence the prisoners were shipped to internment camps in Egypt.

LIBYAN DRIVE STRIKES SNAG

Rommel hitting Back; Reds, However, Keep Nazis On Run

(By Associated Press)

Russia's victorious Red armies, repeating the triumphs their forbears scored against Napoleon in 1812, drove the Germans 23 miles west of Moshalsk in a seven-mile-a-day advance today, while on the North African front, British desert troops underwent a startling reverse.

British Middle East headquarters acknowledged that Axis mechanized forces, striking 90 miles northeastward from El Aghella, had recaptured Agadabia, and it was apparent that Gen. Erwin Rommel had begun a full-fledged counter-offensive.

South of Bengasi

Agadabia, the scene of a brief Axis stand after Gen. Rommel's armies had been thrown back 300 miles from the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, is 80 miles south of Bengasi on the Gulf of Sirte.

A Cairo bulletin said Axis troops, screened by a swirling red sandstorm, lunged forward from the Mersa Brega sector, northeast of El Aghella, on the second day of what was described as a "reconnaissance in force" yesterday.

"By evening, our light forces had withdrawn east of Agadabia, which the enemy occupied," British headquarters said.

Astonished by the setback, at the peak of the British drive toward Tripoli, London military quarters suggested heavy aerial reinforcements must have reached the Germans and Italians.

These quarters said the mention of "light forces" withdrawing from Agadabia indicated the main British force had not yet attempted to stop Gen. Rommel's counter-drive.

The German high command reported briefly that "German and Italian troops are following up the defeated enemy" and claimed the destruction or capture of 10 British tanks, 46 guns and more than 100 vehicles.

Red Pinchers Squeeze Down

On the Soviet front, the retreat of Hitler's battered armies along the Napoleonic road from Moshalsk to Smolensk was further endangered by Russian pinchers squeezing down on the "escape corridor" at Vyazma.

Front-line dispatches said Russian troops striking across deep snowdrifts at the German rear guard were only 40 miles from Vyazma and that other Red army forces were knitting down from the northeast to cut off the main Nazi column.

A Red army bulletin announced the capture of Borodino, 12 miles west of Moshalsk and of Uvarovo, five miles farther west.

At Borodino, the Nazis burned the famous Napoleonic museum, destroying relics of Napoleon's battle there with Czar Alexander III's imperial armies in the winter snows of 130 years ago.

Mahoning County's Red Cross Drive Is Over Top

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 23.—With funds still pouring in, the Red Cross war chest campaign of Mahoning county today went over the top by $21,000, reporting $191,269 as compared with the $170,000 goal.

At the rate collections are being made, Red Cross officials said, the campaign will be oversubscribed by $25,000.

J. H. Wilson Named President Of County Boy Scout Council

Benny Kupka of Salem Troop Awarded Eagle Rating; East Palestine Scoutmaster Honored

James H. Wilson of Salem, long identified with local and county Boy Scout activities, was elected president of the Columbiana County Boy Scout council at the annual meeting of the organization Thursday night in the American Legion hall at Lisbon.

Wilson succeeds Ralph T. Couch of East Liverpool, who was named as representative to the regional office.

Other officers are: First vice president, Alfred E. Stoddard of East Liverpool; second vice president, Fred Gibson of East Palestine; third vice president, Rev. J. K. McDivitt of Columbiana; treasurer, Frank M. Gardner of East Liverpool, re-elected.

150 Attend Dinner

One hundred and fifty persons attended the 8:30 dinner which featured recognition to scout leaders, annual reports and an address by W. H. Hisey, Akron district scout executive.

The coveted Silver Beaver medal, awarded for outstanding and meritorious work by a scout leader, was presented to Ray W. Davis of the American Legion post of East Palestine. Judge Lodge Riddle of Lisbon made the presentation.

An Eagle Scout award went to Benny Kupka, a member of troop 23 of the First Baptist church of Salem, whose scoutmaster is Richard Stirling. Max H. King made the presentation.

Recognition was given to 30 county scoutmasters who were presented a book entitled, "Adventures in Senior Scouting."

Perle Whitehead of Cincinnati presented reports from the regional office. Group singing after the dinner was led by John Coleman of East Liverpool.

Moran's Work Lauded
Joseph Moran, Columbiana county scout executive, was lauded for his work in the nine months that he has been on the job, by Judge Riddle, former president of the organization.

"Strength Through Faith" was the subject of the evening's address by Mr. Hisey, who pointed out that it was most important that "we should have faith in God, our country and our fellow men."

He said that the youth of America should be taught that their dignity is in overalls. He praised the aims and objectives of the Boy Scouts of America and cautioned that some persons should learn to get back to the homey things in life; to depend upon one's own initiative.

Salem men who took part in arranging the meeting included Russell Gibbs, K. U. Wirtz, M. H. Mawhinney, Judge Joel H. Sharp and Edward Howell.

MOTORISTS URGED TO GET STICKERS

The special auto-use tax window in the postoffice lobby will be open until 5 p. m. Saturday for the issuance of stickers for the original allotment of truck taxes remain. In the light truck and pleasure car quota, the balance is eight tires and four tubes.

Two truck tires and tubes were awarded last night to the Famous Dairy for use on a truck which is used in the wholesale distribution of milk. O. G. Stark, funeral director, was awarded four tubes.

The first passenger car tire to be awarded locally went to Dr. L. P. Derfus.

Out of the January quota of 24 heavy truck tires, 12 were yet to be issued. Ten of the original allotment of truck tubes remain. In the light truck and pleasure car quota, the balance is eight tires and four tubes.

FARM BUREAU RALLY IS HELD IN LISBON

LISBON, Jan. 23.—About 175 persons attended a meeting of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau here last night in the High school when Edwin Bath of Columbus, legislative agent of the Ohio Farm Bureau, discussed legislation of interest to farmers.

Another speaker was Robert Elliott of Mansfield, district field agent of the Farm Bureau. C. G. Potter presided at the meeting.

Office of Facts and Figures Reports On Production Pace

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—With "good strong foundations" already established, America is on its way today to "outbuilding the world" in planes and tanks—the "two most important weapons" in modern war—and is stepping up rapidly all lines of war output.

Moreover, said a "report to the nation" issued by the newly formed office of facts and figures, the navy has 346 new combat vessels under construction—double its present strength; contracts have been let for 999 merchant ships; the army is expanding toward a possible 7,000,000 men, and economic warfare is proceeding on world-wide fronts.

Requested by FDR

The report first official summary of the defense-war effort since the government clamped down on publication of production figures several months ago, was prepared at the request of President Roosevelt. It covered the period from the fall of France in 1940 to Pearl Harbor and on to the end of 1941.

Archibald MacLish, director of O. F. F., described American industry as having passed the period of transition and said that while in a sense the "real work" is only now beginning, "a tremendous start has been made and the job ahead 'will be done.'"

Some of the highlights of the 20,000 word report:

1.—Production of all weapons and supplies will be increased nearly 300 per cent in 1942 over the last 18 months.

2.—Army warplane production has been "stepped up to the point where, with Great Britain, we soon will exceed the plane output of the Axis countries. More important, we will have the plant capacity to increase our production to the point where we can seize control of the air in all areas of the world struggle."

3.—The United States now has four types of army combat planes "better than anything yet produced abroad, so far as is known. American production is 18 per cent."

CAST OF GRANGERS TO PRESENT PLAY

Attendance at the six sessions of the Salem Farmers' Institute, which closed last night, was estimated at close to 2,300 by institute officers this morning.

The two-day affair was brought to a close Thursday evening with an enjoyable concert in the High school auditorium by the Women's Welsh club quartet of Pittsburgh. Fully 500 persons attended.

Previous institute sessions were held in the Memorial building, Frank W. Fuels of Willow Grove grange being named president at a business session yesterday.

Most of the crowd will return to the High school auditorium at 8 p. m. Saturday when an institute cast presents a comedy production, "Spring Fever." The High school orchestra will furnish the music.

Nipponese Making Continuous Assault On Batan Peninsula

SHOW NO REGARD FOR LOSS OF LIFE

Wavell Wires Congratulations to Heroes of Philippines

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—General Douglas MacArthur reported to the war department today the repulse of all Japanese attacks on the Batan peninsula in the Philippines which he said had been extremely heavy in the past 24 hours.

The war department said in a communique that apparently the enemy was making continuous assaults without regard to losses with intent to crush the American-Filipino defenders by sheer force of numbers. Jap troops pounding at MacArthur were estimated at 300,000 yesterday.

Japanese assault troops have been strongly reinforced, the communique said.

Japs Form Davao Force

Meanwhile reports from the southern Philippine island of Mindanao, more than 500 miles south of the struggle on Luzon, were that the Japanese had organized a local military force composed of some 10,000 Japanese residents of that locality.

Davao, on Mindanao, is a city populated largely by Japanese, who for years have dominated the production of Manila hemp. Early in the invasion the Japanese made Davao a base of offensive operations against Borneo and other parts of the Netherlands Indies.

The text of the communique, No. 71, based on reports received here up to 9:30 a. m. Eastern Standard time:

"I. PHILIPPINE THEATER:

"The Japanese are continuing to launch heavy attacks on General MacArthur's positions on the Batan peninsula. During the past twenty-four hours the fighting has been extremely heavy. The enemy's assault troops have been strongly reinforced. Nevertheless, all Japanese attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses. Apparently the enemy has adopted a policy of continuous assaults, without regard to casualties, hoping by great superiority in numbers to crush the defending forces."

Praised by Wavell

"General MacArthur is in receipt of a message from General Sir Archibald Wavell, formally congratulating him and his command for their magnificent defense of the Philippines."

"Reports from Mindanao disclosed that the Japanese troops occupying Davao have organized a local military force composed of some 10,000 Japanese residents of that community."

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

SALES TAX MONEY IS DISTRIBUTED

LISBON, Jan. 23.—County Auditor Ross Tishler today made distribution of January sales tax revenue amounting to $7,847.46, a decrease of $26.53 under the December revenue.

Columbiana county received $3,138.98, while corporations received $3,923.73 in the distribution, as follows: East Liverpool, $1,522.57; Salem $795.13; Wellsville, $495.92; East Palestine, $331.15; Lisbon, $218.42; Columbiana, $173.68; Leetonia, $146.02; Sallenville, $139.44; Washingtonville, $36.78; New Waterford, $35.36; Rogers, $19.39; and Hanoverton, $18.87.

The distribution to townships amounted to $784.75, as follows: Liverpool, $76.75; St. Clair, $5.29; Middletown, $48.10; Unity, $53.60; Yellow Creek, $30.12; Madison, $37.63; Elkrum, $39.92; Fairfield, $56.96; Washington, $17.02; Wayne, $13.68; Center, $58.14; Salem, $36.21; Franklin, $16.36; Hanover, $37.69; Butler, $45.13; Perry, $42; West $43.83, and Knox, $56.29.

Salvage Old Plates

COLUMBUS, Jan. 23.—Ohio oil companies have joined the state bureau of motor vehicles in a program for salvaging old license plates at any filling station, where attendants will install 1942 plates without charge. The salvaged metal will be offered to the Red Cross in each county.

Promoted

COLUMBUS, Jan. 22.—Ohio county commissioners promoted John F. Curry of Cleveland from vice president to president of their association last night as the annual convention closed. H. T. Morris of Lima was re-elected treasurer.

PROOF IN THE EATING

Everybody seems favorably impressed so far with the way Donald M. Nelson, America's man of the hour, is taking hold of his new job as chairman of the war production board. Obviously, this is to be considerably more than just another shift of names and faces. Mr. Nelson seems to be trying to streamline the production setup.

But as far as the public is concerned, it is going to reserve judgment till someone in a position to know testifies that it is easier than it was before to clear away red tape at the Washington end of production problems. That is the ultimate—the only reliable test of any reorganization that may be undertaken.

GADFLIES IN WARTIME

Americans trying to maintain their peace of mind about censorship as a wartime necessity are thankful to Great Britain. As long as the British can tolerate criticism it will be hard for anyone in the United States to contend that criticism is likely to be of assistance to the enemy.

There recently has been a vivid demonstration of the power of criticism. While it is possible that President Roosevelt might have reorganized the function of military supply, it is probable that he did so and did so sooner than he might have, otherwise, because of criticism. Insofar as the enemy heard of the criticism while it was being spoken and written, undoubtedly the enemy was cheered up. But the instant the reorganization began, the enemy had nothing to feel good about, and if the reorganization speeds up production the enemy can blame criticism.

Even in free countries in peacetime, the gadfly is unpopular. In wartime, he is likely to seem unbearable. But in wartime there is special need for gadflies, to sharpen the wits of the men they annoy—to prevent complacency. Some day, perhaps, there will be official gadflies in the government, itself, to offset too many official yes-men.

SUMMER IN ARGENTINA

From New York City to Buenos Aires, northernmost part of Argentina, in a voyage of 6,761 miles—1,600 miles more than the distance from San Francisco to Yokohama. To the tip of Argentina, stretching southward toward the antarctic, is another 1,500 miles. January is the hottest month of the year in Argentina, and July is the coldest. These are things North Americans learned in geography class in the 6th grade; perhaps this is the time to prove that free education was a noble experiment by remembering them.

As one of the interested parties in hemispheric security arrangements, Argentina is playing coy and hard to catch. It is complicating the Pan-American conference. This may be blamed on Axis diplomacy, restrictions on importation of Argentine beef, or plain perversity. But probably it should be blamed on plain geography. With Chile, its neighbor, Argentina still can find reasons for believing in the illusion of isolation. Moreover, its statesmen reasonably can speculate that there is nothing to fear from the "good neighbor" whereas there might be repercussions if the two neighbors happened to win the war and Argentina was allied with the losing side. In a period of dismal reality, it almost looks as if Argentina might be trying to take the place of the south sea islands as the favorite destination of escapists, including its homegrown variety.

MACARTHUR STANDS BY HIS GUNS

The belligerent phase of the war for the United States would seem vastly different at this time were it not for Gen. MacArthur's army in the Philippines. His record of brave and skillful resistance stands between Americans and their misgivings about the bad start made in the defense of their international sovereignty.

Gen. MacArthur's name has been added to the list of leaders who have inspired their countrymen in periods of uncertainty. He may be compared with Ulysses S. Grant, heartening the Union with his demonstrations of cool skill at a time when everything else seemed to be compounded of equal parts of confusion and oratory. No one can say what may happen in the near or distant future to the general who believed the Philippines could be defended successfully and is standing by his guns, but it is possible to say what has happened already. He is the most solid reassurance his countrymen have been able to draw from the circumstances of World War II; they are not going to be at a disadvantage in military leadership. Reports of successful naval operations by the Asiatic fleet, suggest that Admiral Hart may soon become a similar source of inspiration.

PARTING IS SUCH SWEET SORROW

Whether Marriner S. Eccles was holding a string on a trial balloon or merely talking for his dinner, he said something to the New York State Bankers association the other night that bears a lot of listening to. If there must be greatly higher income taxes at all levels than those now being collected—and there must be—then they should be collected in some easier way.

The chairman of the board of governors of the federal reserve system suggests withholding part of the income. The idea would have been obnoxious a year ago; it's an excuse for indignation now; but it will make sense in ratio to the experience of taxpayers with their income levies. Hundreds of thousands of them are going to discover that they don't have the wherewithal to pay the tax. They spent it—during 1941.

It would be the same with social security taxes for old age pensions, if they were collectible at the end of a 12-month period. Relatively few persons would be able to meet them. Withheld from each week's pay, however, they quickly cease to be considered as a part of income. If the government is going to collect income taxes on a greatly expanded scale, those who are struggling now to scrape together the money before March 15 will be able to see merit in Mr. Eccles' proposal for a withholding tax without much argument.

In honor of her 71st birthday anniversary, friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Bilger on the Lisbon rd. Saturday evening.

Mrs. Ira Waltz and children, of Akron, who spent a few days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Humm of Franklin ave., returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Freese and daughter Dorothy and Catherine and his mother, Mrs. Freese, of Canton, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Courtney of Ellsworth ave.

Holland Cameron, teacher in Canfield High school, and his friend, Edwin Delfs visited Sunday with Mr. Cameron's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cameron, of Ellsworth ave.

Miss Fern Morris, who is teaching school at Elyria, is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Morris of E. Seventh st., suffering from a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Thomas and children of Cleveland have returned home after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas of E. High st.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, January 24

THE LUNAR transits for this day must be read as generally adverse. Under the forecast of unsatisfactory and thwarting, if not sorrowful conditions it would be advisable to postpone all major operations or ambitious plans until more propitious auguries are found to rule. The health may need attention, elders or superiors may need placating, and domestic conditions call for patience, stability, harmony and kindness, and not impetuosity or strife. A solace in trying circumstances may be found in a friend of standing.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of endurance, fortitude and optimism to happily handle visitations that may be difficult, adverse or sorrowful. Good physical as well as mental soundness may avert real grief and trials, and place matters on a more comforting basis, with tried and true friends ready to sympathize and solace. Postpone all new programs.

A child born on this day should have very decisive and definite impulses which may evoke opposition and excite its temperament. However it will be kindly and have lively social tendencies.

Distances have lengthened under circumstantial restrictions. Driving over to Aunt Mary's for a Sunday dinner, once a dog trot of 100 miles, is now 200, with the treads dangerously worn and weather conditions risky.

Even a woman with an antique husband will still pay a high price for an old chair with wormholes in the legs.

And so it is General Knudsen now! Can hardly wait to see the big fellow in that uniform. He will loom up like a one-man A. E. F.

Practically everyone agrees that walking is good healthful exercise—if it's not compulsory.

Those Federal auto use stamps, at $2.09, sounds as if somebody had quoted a bargain rate.

EXCISE TAX PLAN
FAILS TO PRODUCEOnly Bowling, Pool, 'Slots'
Come Through As First
Expected

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Disappointing collections on the new federal excises enacted a few months ago foreshadowed difficulties for congress and the treasury today in their search for $7,000,000,000 more taxes asked by President Roosevelt.

Officials said that the new excises are bringing in far less revenue than expected. Unless the showing improves, congress will have to raise its sights in drawing this year's tax bill, to make up the amount that collections fell short of the estimated revenue.

Taxes which went into effect last Oct. 1 include those on local telephone bills, jewelry, furs, toilet preparations, musical instruments and electrical appliances.

Two of the new taxes have held up to expectations. The licenses for bowling alleys and pool tables expected to yield $1,300,000, already have turned in $1,203,216 in three months. The licenses on slot machines and pinball machines have yielded $4,708,656 and were slated to bring in only $4,600,000. These two taxes are collected only once a year, while the others are to be collected each month on the basis of sales.

On 14 other taxes, collections in October, November and December amounted to $27,150,000, against an estimate of $272,400,000 in a full year.

Part of this discrepancy was explained as due to the fact that these taxes are paid a month late and since October was the first month the collections represent really a 2-month, rather than a 3-month, record. In a few cases shortages of materials held back production. In other cases, seasonal factors detracted from the showing. Another official explanation was that people stocked up in September to beat the tax.

Sue Lisbon Estate

LISBON, Jan. 23.—Luther Winfield and wife, Olive Winfield, today filed actions in common pleas court against Charles Lambright, administrator of the estate of the late George Lipe of Lisbon, each asking compensation in the sum of $2,500 from the estate.

The petitions allege an agreement was entered into with the decedent, and that they had cared for him, furnished him meals and nursed him in his illness from Aug. 31, 1939 to Oct. 16, 1941, performing services reasonably worth $2,500, it is stated. The petition further said that in return for these services, Lipe agreed to convey his home property to the Winfields, who now state the claims have been refused by the estate.

How to make Pillsbury's
Prune-Filled
Coffee CakeIn good taste morning, noon, or night

Complete recipe:
1. Sift and measure 2 c. Enriched Pillsbury's Best Flour. (Two B-vitamins and iron are added to this fine flour, with no change in flavor, color, or baking quality.) Add 3 tps. baking powder (or 2 tps. double-acting), 1/2 tsp. salt, and 1/4 c. sugar. (The rich creamy-white color you see in Pillsbury's Best is insured by hourly tests during milling.) 2. Cut in 1/4 c. shortening until quite fine. 3. Add enough milk to 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten, to measure about 1/4 c. Add to dry ingredients; mix only until all flour is dampened. 4. Knead lightly on a floured board a few seconds. (And be ready for a perfect Coffee Cake!) For you're using the BAKER'S flour, the flour that's tested by actual baking 4 to 6 times a day during milling! 5. Roll out into 12 x 10-in. rectangle. Brush with melted butter; spread with this filling: 6. Combine 1/4 c. chopped cooked prunes, 1/4 c. raisins, 1/4 c. chopped dried apricots, dash of salt, 1/4 c. water, 1/4 c. sugar and 1/4 tsp. cinnamon in saucepan. Cook until thick. Chill thoroughly. 7. Spread 1/2 of filling over 1/2 of dough. Overlap 1/2 of dough on filling. Spread with rest of filling. Overlap remaining 1/2 of dough. Moistened edges and seal. 8. Place on greased baking sheet. Make 1-in. diagonal slashes on both sides of loaf 1 1/2 in. apart. 9. Gently tilt each cut section at a slight angle. 10. Brush with 1 egg white, unbeaten, combined with 2 tps. water. Sprinkle with 1 tsp. sugar combined with 1/4 tsp. cinnamon and 1/4 c. chopped blanched almonds. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 15 to 20 min. This delicious Pillsbury coffee cake can be baked quickly—there's no waiting for dough to rise. Why not get a bag of Pillsbury's Best from your grocer and bake a delicious Prune-Filled Coffee Cake this very day!

VICHY—This belvedere became a diplomatic headache. When French Minister M. Chataignau had to call a doctor to relieve stomach pains only two doctors were available—one British, one German. He called the British doctor. The German legation protested the slight to Berlin, and Vichy ordered Chataignau to apologize.

IS CONVINCED THAT TON JON IS SUPERIOR TO OTHER MEDICINES

Favorable relief he derived from TONJON has made him feel like working because he has no more kidney trouble or backache. Thinks other people will be more than satisfied with TONJON.

All the time more and more people here in Salem and vicinity are awakening to the fact that TONJON is a medicine of merit and will give them satisfactory relief if only they give it the chance it deserves. One such person is Mr. Clifford Jones, 717 Seneca, Alliance, Ohio, who says:

"I have obtained better results from TONJON than from any other medicine I ever used. Before I tried it though, I had tried many other remedies, realizing very little relief from any of them. A functional kidney disorder seemed to be responsible for most of my misery because they acted too often and too freely. It was not unusual for me to get up four or five times a night for kidney relief, so I didn't get much sleep. It seemed my whole body ached and especially my back, arms and legs. I was so tired and worn out all the time that I didn't feel like working."

MR. CLIFFORD JONES

"I am grateful to my friends who recommended TONJON because now I feel like going to work and my kidneys don't cause me so much trouble. My body doesn't ache so badly and I am convinced that TONJON is superior to other medicines since my relief has been so favorable. I think any sufferer who tried TONJON will be more than satisfied with the results."

The TONJON Health Representative invites you to visit him personally at the Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.

SPEAKING OF SACRO-ILIAC PAINS

Dr. Clendening Discourses from Experience

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
I didn't pay very much attention to the subject of acute sacro-iliac strain, in fact I didn't believe in it very much until this summer when I learned over to pick up a package on the floor.

I was never warned against this simple maneuver as something that would be too strenuous for a man.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

even of my advanced age, but the results were disastrous. Something slipped or cracked or stuck or jammed right in the small of my back. The package never did get picked up from the floor.

I went around for about two weeks before I finally got well, and I want to say that I am an authority on acute sacro-iliac strain, for that is what my doctor said it was.

According to another authority on the subject who has just sent me an article about it, it is pointed out that the general practitioner should be familiar with the condition because the layman knows very little about the trouble and is apt to confuse it with kidney complaint.

Confused With Kidney Disease
For this reason the orthopedic surgeon is rarely consulted at first.

but strains of this type are fairly common as evidenced by the popular belief in the picture of the man with his hand over his back who is being advised to take kidney pills. Kidney disease rarely if ever causes pain in this region.

The acute form of sacro-iliac strain differs from the chronic form in the suddenness of its onset and in most instances the amount of dislocation of the joint is disproportionate to the amount of pain and disability and the movement or exertion which brought on the trouble as I well exemplify in my case by the package on the floor.

It is easy to understand why a man lifting heavy weights should gradually develop a strain in his sacro-iliac joint, but why a person who simply reaches down to get a shirt out of a bureau drawer should slip this solid joint out of position is hard to understand.

Some surgeons say that the sacro-iliac joint, which is between the sacrum and the pelvic bones is not a joint at all, and never becomes dislocated, but it would take all the orthopedic surgeons from Boston to Vladivostok working like riveters in a shipyard for five years to convince me that my sacro-iliac didn't slip out when I reached over to pick up that package. This article may explain why some of you get backaches after you unwrapped the expensive Christmas presents which your relatives sent you.

Acute sacro-iliac strain being not as complicated as chronic sacro-iliac strain, the treatment is relatively simple. You seldom have to bother with the possibility of focal infection of the teeth, tonsils, or with complicated orthopedic appliances.

The first few days the treatment consists in lying down. In fact, you are not disposed to do anything else, and from the amount of complaints you make nobody is disposed to try to make you move after the first few attempts.

Heat is also helpful in any form. When you are able to stand it, massage and manipulation are the real secrets to recovery. If you get a good husky who will pull your leg around and push your back and pelvis pretty vigorously for an hour or so, something suddenly seems to slip into place.

I do not think it requires a great deal of technical ability to do this manipulation. The man who did it to me was not a learned surgeon but the fellow who came to mow our lawn. He said he could fix me and did. He said it was like the kitchen clock. When it stopped, he shook it. It started. He didn't know much about it, but it worked.

Two Brides, Two Brides-Elect Honored By Mullins Boosters

Mullins Boosters club members honored two recent brides and two brides-elect at a dinner at the Metzger hotel last night. Gifts were presented to Mrs. H. O. Karr, the former Miss Vera Jackson, and to Mrs. T. F. Beery, formerly Miss Ruth Pettit.

Other gifts were given to Miss Evelyn Crawford, whose wedding will be Saturday, and to Miss Miriam Murray, who will be married on Feb. 14.

The table for the dinner was attractively arranged with a bowl of flowers in colored water which was treated to simulate a bubbling hot spring. Candles and a three-tier wedding cake completed the decorations.

A feature of the entertainment was a mock wedding held by Misses Lisabeth Smith, Mary Bohr, Sara Wanner, Bettie Lewis, Mary Oesch, Wilhelmina Prasco, Henrietta Tucker, Mrs. John Wanner, Mrs. Arlene Fuels, Mrs. Louis Quinn, Mrs. Drexel Knoderer and Mrs. Edward Detimore.

Prizes were won in the games by Mrs. Wanner, and door awards by Mrs. Emmet Harrison, Miss Smith, Mrs. Fuels, Mrs. Knoderer and Mrs. Quinn were in charge of the party.

During a short business meeting plans were made for a benefit card party Feb. 13, for which the place will be announced later. Funds from the benefit will be used in welfare work by the club.

Sorority Will Aid Welfare Unit

Arrangements for aiding the Welfare unit again this year and for contribution to the Red Cross war relief drive were made by Beta Psi chapter members of Beta Sigma Phi sorority last night at the home of Mrs. Henry Reese, S. Madison ave.

The group will give a benefit late next spring to raise money for the unit's work of providing dental care for youngsters. Plans were made to send a report each month to the international office of the defense bonds and stamps purchased during that period by the members.

Announcement was made of the next meeting, Feb. 12, when members will have a program on "The Dance" at the library assembly room. Music and a talk by a guest speaker are planned. Guests will be welcomed at the program.

The informal program last night on "Music into Drama and the Dance" featured a discussion by the members of several operas including "Aida" and "The Marriage of Figaro."

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Strader Hostess To S. E. M. Club

Mrs. Francis Strader was hostess to S. E. M. club members at her home on N. Lincoln ave. last night, when the group made plans for a bowling party Monday night, Feb. 2.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Miss Dorothy Zeck; secretary, Miss Katharine Carns; treasurer, re-elected, Miss Evelyn Windle.

Prizes in "500" were won by Miss Lucille Carnes and Miss Evelyn Windle. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Howard Brown will entertain at her home in Beloit Feb. 5.

Just-A-Mere Club Is Entertained

Just-A-Mere club members were entertained Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Paul Ormsby on E. Fourth st. Defense stamps, given as prizes in "500," went to Mrs. Louis Hirst and Mrs. William Ruter. Lunch was served.

The club will meet with Mrs. Gus Leslie on Columbia st. in two weeks.

Salem Garden Club Meets Monday

Salem Garden club will hold the first meeting of 1942 in the library assembly room at 2:30 p. m. Monday. An executive committee meeting will precede the general meeting at 1:30. All members are asked to attend.

Music Club to Meet In Columbiana

The Salem Music Study club will meet at the home of Mrs. F. E. Griffin, 17 Herber st., Columbiana, Monday afternoon with Miss Emma Koenreich as associate hostess. The program subject will be "American Ballads."

Attend Birthday Fete

Mrs. and Mrs. Walter Paul entertained Wednesday evening at their home in Sebring honoring the 18th birthday of their son, Armean. Guests from Alliance, Sebring, Westville and Salem attended the fete. He is a grandson of Mrs. Marie Selfridge of Prospect st.

Hold Surprise Shower For Bride-Elect

Miss Mary Catherine Fisher, fiancée of Vincent Bober, whose wedding will be an event of Feb. 12, was honored by telephone company operators at a surprise shower last night. The party was given at the home of Miss Mary Elizabeth O'Neill on the Damascus rd.

Girls employed with Miss Fisher at the telephone exchange and other guests presented her a shower of miscellaneous gifts. The evening was enjoyed informally with ping-pong, dancing and cards.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Jean Scullion, Mrs. James V. Fisher, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. W. J. O'Neill.

The bridal theme was used in the attractive decorations for the table when lunch was served. Tiny doll bridesmaids dressed in pastel hues were arranged on miniature stairs and across at the corner of the table to the center where they formed a circle around a miniature bride and groom in a small garden. Thirty-five guests attended the party, including Mrs. Nathan Harris, sister of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Varfee Stewart, formerly employed in the telephone exchange.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses have been granted at Lisbon to: Wilbert Truxall, dockhand, of Youngstown, and Charlotte Miller of Salem.

Jack Bolash, kiln setter, and Pauline Wolfgang, New Waterford. Albert M. Wayt, soldier, Bergholz, and Violet Louise Saxton of Salineville.

Lawrence Raymond Weekley, warehouseman of Canton and Betty Lou Jones of East Liverpool.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kaminsky and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heddlston are enjoying a trip to New Orleans and through the south. They plan to visit the former's son Robert Kaminsky, stationed at Randolph Field, Tex., before returning home about Feb. 1.

Defense Council Will Meet Tonight

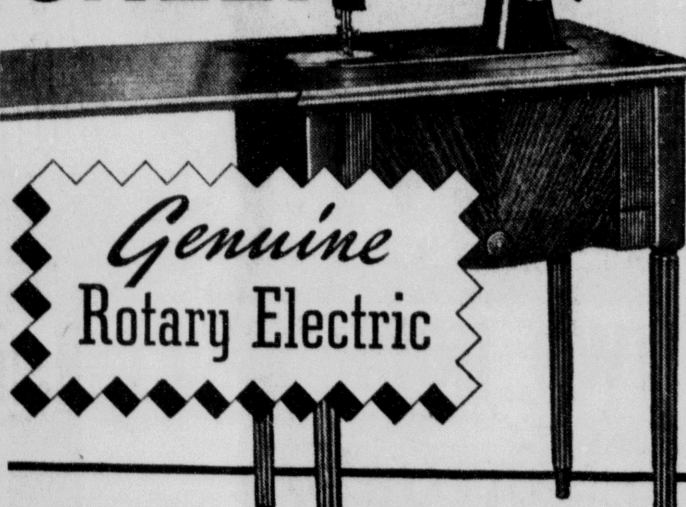

LEETONIA, Jan. 23.—Chairman John A. Arnold of the joint Leetonia-Washingtonville Defense Council requests the presence of chairmen and committeemen at the third meeting of the council at the mayor's office, Washingtonville, this evening at 7:30.

Postmaster H. D. Arnold has announced the postal receipts for 1941 as $11,368.10, an increase of $37.03 over 1940.

Mrs. Raymond Smith and Mrs. W. G. Weikart entertained the Priscilla club of St. Paul's Lutheran church at the home of Mrs. Smith Thursday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. T. P. Laughner, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kennedy, Conrad Berg, Guy Mauro, John Woods, William Hisey, Paul Atkinson, and Andrew J. Duko attended the Boy Scout council's annual meeting at the American Legion home at Lisbon Thursday evening.

U. S. IS LEADING IN WAR BUILDING

Office of Facts and Figures Reports On Production Pace

ican bomber types now in mass production are superior to those built anywhere else in the world. Still better models are on the way."

Will Outdo Hitler

4—Plane and tank production this year will equal that of Hitler "in all the years before 1939 when he was preparing to conquer the world."

5—Despite "all handicaps," production of tanks and combat vehicles is more than three times that of a year ago; guns of all types nearly five times as large; ammunition, nine times. "We already are producing light and medium tanks in quantities and the first heavy tank was delivered to the army the day we declared war on Japan."

6—At the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor, the navy was building 15 battleships to add to its 17 already built; 11 aircraft carriers building, 7 built; 54 cruisers building, 37 built; 193 destroyers building, 171 built; 73 submarines building, 113 built—in all 346 building, 345 built.

7—The navy also had under construction by the end of 1941 a total of 96 auxiliaries, 243 mine craft, 225 patrol boats; and had added 2,000 new planes to its air arm.

8—Lend-lease supplies have expanded from a trickle to a stream that "must become a river, a torrent, and then a flood."

The report said 1,000,000 workers had been drawn into war industries and 15,000,000 more would be needed by 1944. Some labor shortages would be unavoidable, it said, but an unprecedented training program would furnish most of the requirements.

ALWAYS BEFORE AND NOW MORE THAN EVER

During these trying times, it's best to have a regular store to deal with — one that will have your interest at heart and will protect you on items that you need that might be hard to obtain. The past few weeks proved to many that the stores they had been dealing with and paying cash would not protect them, with one item in particular that became scarce. In most cases the independent merchants took care of their regular customers and many additional customers! Why didn't these other so-called stores take care of the people who dealt with them and paid cash? We took care of the people who patronized us!

Don't wait longer! Line up with a good independent merchant, one who will take care of you with items which may become scarce. We will be glad to have you consider us. We'll give you Good Service, Fair Prices, Free Delivery and prove to you that we really appreciate your business.

Notice Free Delivery Hours Week days orders should be called into the stores by 9:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.; Saturday, only two trips, one a. m. and one p. m. leaving same hours as week days. By giving us your order at this time or before, will allow us to give your orders personal attention and early delivery to your homes. We'll appreciate your cooperation.

MONTROSE, Colo.—Farmer Roy Guild was surprised—pleasantly—to find a live cow buried under one of his hay stacks.

Bossy had been missing a month. He decided she had wandered into a tunnel-like opening in the setback and been trapped in a slide. It was warm inside and there was plenty to eat.

PUEBLO, Colo.—Pueblo's morning newspaper, the Chieftain, had five reporters a year ago. Today all five are in some branch of the war forces.

And the man who replaced the first of the original five to leave the staff is expecting a draft call shortly.

ASK FUND TO MAKE 33,000 WARPLANES

Army Officials' Request Is Expected to Receive Speedy Approval

Lieutenant General H. H. Arnold, deputy chief of staff for air, said the program was necessary to build up an air force both for the United States and its Allies, and told the house appropriations committee: "We are not only accelerating the attainment of our original state of preparedness, but we also are conducting combat operations and must concurrently build toward our offensive knockout blow."

Cites Need of Speed
"Now, by decisive action we must counteract the time advantage of the enemy. It is considered essential that funds for this program be made available at the earliest possible date in order that the present facilities may prepare for further production and that the new facilities may be expedited."

Testimony by Arnold and other officials, made public today, showed that $7,144,056,340 of the fund—the largest single military appropriation in the history of congress—would go for complete airplanes. Another $1,547,948,529 has been allocated for armament, aircraft cannon, small arms ammunition, bombs and pyrotechnics.

Arnold said the program, except for heavy bombers, was a continuation of the present rate of production and was made before President Roosevelt asked congress for 60,000 planes in 1942 and 125,000 in 1943.

In recommending speedy house action, the appropriations committee made it clear that the program was a "preliminary step" toward President Roosevelt's goal of 60,000 planes this year and 125,000 in 1943, and that still more huge sums of money would have to be allocated.

The committee said in a report on the measure: "The funds in this bill will prevent a decline that would occur next August in airplane production due to the fact that existing orders would run out by that time, will fill up new capacity heretofore appropriated for that will be in production by that time, and increase the capacity for the production of bomber types."

Noting that there had been "great increases" in the unit cost of planes and plane parts, the committee recommended that the war department give close attention to the problem of preventing further price rises.

"The financial burden of the program on the American people is oppressive and will become more so and every dollar saved means a dollar less to be borrowed or extracted by taxation," the committee asserted.

At the same time, the report said that the big appropriation was a part of the $56,000,000,000 war expenditure program for 1943 outlined by President Roosevelt in his budget message to congress early this month.

Cites Industrial Readjustment
"This program, supplemented by those that are to follow, also involves the greatest dislocation, readjustment and conversion of industrial production that the nation has ever experienced," the committee observed.

It said, too, that assurances had been given by high officials that the plane program could be prosecuted economically and speedily. About $933,000,000 will be spent for plant expansion, mostly additions to present facilities and with new construction limited to bomber assembly plants and other facilities for production of explosives and incendiary materials.

The committee also included in the bill a separate appropriation of $30,000,000 for construction of the Douglas dam on the French broad river near Dandridge, Tenn., in the Tennessee valley.

DEATHS

JOSEPH T. ZEHNDER
Joseph T. Zehnder, about 67, a retired moulder, died at 6:45 p. m. Thursday at his home on New-garden st., following a year's illness. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage a year ago.

Born in Pittsburgh Feb. 4, 1875 he was the son of William and Elizabeth Zehnder. He moved here from Pittsburgh 29 years ago and worked as a moulder at the National Sanitary plant for 28 years. Survivors include his wife, Emma; two daughters, Mrs. Madeline Scullion of Salem, Mrs. Rozella Spragg of Detroit; one son, Joseph, Jr., of Salem, a sister, Mrs. Cora Dadt, of Pittsburgh, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites will be held at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in charge of Rev. G. D. Keister. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas. — Miss Stella McCain settled down to enjoy a movie. "What's cooking?" flashed the title line of a short. Miss McCain shrieked and left hurriedly to turn out the fire under some apples in her oven.

What Can You Do?

American Red Cross Has the Answer—GIVE!

A handful of marines for days held Wake island against impossible odds. They didn't have a chance, and they knew they didn't have a chance. But there was a thing called tradition to live up to. They did their part.

Captain Colin P. Kelly, Jr., didn't have a chance either, and he knew it. But there was a job to be done—he too, played his part.

In the Philippines, in Hawaii, in China, on the high seas, American fighting men are doing their part, writing into the record new chapters in heroism and sacrifice.

The American Red Cross has an answer. When Japanese bombs fell on Pearl Harbor and Manila, the Red Cross was ready and in action without delay. You've seen the pictures—pictures of terrified little children and frantic mothers, the wounded and dead, innocent victims of warfare which no longer recognizes civilians as non-combatants.

In the pictures you saw other people—men and women with Red Crosses on their arms, who were on the scene scarcely before the bombers were out of sight.

Those Red Cross men and women had been put one thought in mind—mercy. They were doing their part. They were relieving suffering where the relief was most needed—at the scene.

Under their ministrations thousands of human beings, some of them your former neighbors—perhaps the man and his wife and the cute little girl who sailed off to Manila a year ago—are being helped.

In army camps and defense outposts, naval stations, airdromes, any spot where a U. S. man is standing guard over the future of America, there the Red Cross flag waves. Those men appreciate the Red Cross. To them it is a breath of home and the sympathetic help they associate with home.

So, you want to know how you can help?

GIVE TO THE AMERICAN RED CROSS WAR FUND!

It takes money to help in wartime. The American Red Cross needs that money, and there is no time to waste. The War Fund must be raised; not next year, not next month, but NOW.

All of you can give. You can give your money just as others are giving their life blood. By so doing you take up your station with the Red Cross on the front lines of mercy. The goal won't be reached until you have done your part.

Your part?

GIVE TO THE RED CROSS WAR FUND!

GOSHEN P.T.A. UNIT TO HEAR SHERIFF

Elser To Speak on Defense At High School Meeting Monday

DAMASCUS, Jan. 23.—Ralph Elser, sheriff of Mahoning county, will give a talk at the meeting of the Goshen township Parent-Teacher association Monday night in the High school. His address will be on "Defense."

The High school band will furnish music. Lunch will be served.

Sew For Red Cross

Mrs. Philip Bush and Mrs. Niles Pettay, Jr., entertained a group of young married ladies at their home Tuesday evening. Sewing and knitting for the Red Cross was the pastime. Mrs. Edgar Gardner was accepted as a new member of the club.

Mrs. E. E. Wagstaff will entertain the group on Feb. 3. Eight members were present from Damascus and Salem.

Ray Bardo, Earl Santee, C. A. Ellett, Charles Ellyson, J. M. Jones, T. C. Warrington, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McDonald and Conrad Woolf attended the annual dinner and meeting of the Salona Supply company at Salem, Monday.

Mrs. J. H. Cameron left Thursday for Martinsville, Va., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Ervine Cubine, and family. Mrs. Cubine underwent an operation recently.

Donald Courtney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Courtney is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky.

Mrs. Willard Cook is ill.

Mrs. Annie Pettit accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Walter Phillips of Fish Creek to Youngstown Sunday where they called on Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Malmesbury.

"THURSDAY'S CHILD" by VERA BROWN

FROM THE OLD RHYME: "THURSDAY'S CHILD HAS FAR TO GO"

SYNOPSIS
Leslie (Sonny) Richardson, a vicious, 18-year-old redhead, is a maid-of-all-work in her foster father's roadside lunchroom on the outskirts of Monroe, Michigan. Life for her was just work and arguments with her foster father. She never had any fun. Then one day, Tom Hollister and Jamie Hicks, two young college students, drive up in an expensive trailer. Tom is attracted to Sonny and asks her to go dancing. When she tells him she doesn't know how to dance, he drops a coin in the phonograph and proceeds to teach her. Just then, Richardson appears on the scene and orders the boys out. That was the last straw for Sonny. She decides to run away. So, that night, when Tom calls to apologize for getting her in trouble and asks her to meet him, she agrees, planning to use the boys in her scheme to escape. She slips out of the house and runs down the road to their waiting car.

CHAPTER FOUR
"Let's get going," Jamie urged, for some of Sonny's panic had communicated itself to him.
"OK, we're on our way," Tom said, as the big car shot down the highway. "We're going to a place outside of Toledo. It's a good dance spot—on the lake."
"But I'm a mess, my dress and stockings are torn!"
"Take off your stockings. Half the girls won't be wearing them anyway," said the efficient Tom. "What do you care? You'll be prettier than most anyway."
They rode in silence and the cool air calmed the girl.
"Now tell me about yourself," Tom said finally.
"There's nothing to tell."
"Why does your old man act like that?" he asked, in another effort to draw her out.
"He's not really my father. He brought me up." She did not add that he had been in love with her mother, and that her mother had run away to marry another man.
"Well, forget all about it," Tom said gallantly.
In 15 minutes they drew up alongside the lake shore dancing place. The strains of good band music floated out into the June night. Sonny's heart jumped. All her life she'd wanted to have fun. All her life she'd wanted this—what other girls had. Now she was going to have it!

Then they were in the big dimly-lighted pavilion, and Sonny was suddenly afraid of the crowds, the pretty girls. Her dress was in a state, and her hose were beyond repair.
Tom grinned at her encouragingly as he left her at the dressing-room door. He put a quarter in her hand. "Give that to the matron. She'll help you sew up your dress."
When the matron ran her practiced eye over Sonny's untidy dress, the girl's pulse was completely shaken. She sat down, took off her hose.
"Well, girlie, you must have had a time for yourself," remarked a pretty blonde who was combing her hair.
Sonny did not answer. She stood up to look at her dress. It was pink and gray. The big three-cornered tear seemed hopeless, but the matron was helpful.
"I can pin it over, then it won't show. The lights aren't very bright out on the floor." The matron wondered about this red-haired girl who had come in such disarray. Young people today! She was glad she didn't have a daughter.
Sonny fixed her hair, powdered her nose. She had no lipstick, but the matron offered her some and Sonny liked the look of the splash of scarlet on her lips.
In 10 minutes she joined Tom and Jamie. "You look fine," said Tom. "Come on, Lesson No. 2. We're on our way."
On the floor it didn't go so well at first, but Sonny tried hard. Tom kept encouraging her, and before the dance was finished, Sonny was a little more at ease.
They joined Jamie then, and the trio went to have some lemonade cut on the veranda. Tom grinned at Sonny across the table. "Now, Lesson No. 3. You won't mind what I say?"
Sonny promised.

As the meal drew to a close, Sonny dreaded the moment when she was to announce she wouldn't go back home—ever.
"Tired?" Tom asked, watching her shadowy grey-green eyes.
Sonny shook her head.
"I suppose we ought to be getting you back. Sure you can get in without the old man catching you?"
"No."
Tom looked startled. "What do you mean?"
"I'm not going back, ever!"

ISALY DAIRY FOODS BUILD SUPERIOR PEOPLE

Because of High Calcium Content

AN AUTHORITY SPEAKS

John X. Loughran, Ph. D., says: "Perhaps two-thirds of the American people demonstrate greater or lesser dietary shortages of calcium. There can be no sparkling vitality, abundant health, youthfulness or endurance without ample dietary calcium. It behooves us one and all, particularly during these days of war psychology, to be particularly watchful of the intake of essential life and health substances, with an especial emphasis on calcium."

Mrs. Coyle Hostess To Columbiana Club

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 23.—Mrs. E. T. Coyle welcomed associate members of the Sorosis club at her home Wednesday evening, with two guests, Mrs. F. E. Brookes Grafton, Pa.; and Mrs. R. F. Riffe, Greenwich, Conn.

Mrs. Coyle presided at the meeting, at which time Mrs. R. J. Barrow and Mrs. Clarence Young were admitted to membership. Mrs. Roy Bilger was received into the club, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Lewis Way, who has moved to Pennsylvania.

The club voted to send $3 to the blind. An appeal was made for library books for men in the service. Books may be taken to the local library where they will be listed and repaired and sent to distributing headquarters.

The program included chapters one and two of the study book, "Down Mexico Way," by Mrs. C. E. Bender; chapter three and four, "East and West to the Oceans," by Mrs. C. W. Smith; and "Mexico's Mineral Products" by Miss Nell Koch.

The Ladies auxiliary of the American Legion held a meeting Wednesday evening at which time a "legislative" program was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Mahlan Chew of Cleveland announce the birth of a daughter at a Cleveland hospital. She has been named Nancy Jane.

Mrs. Chew will be remembered as the former Dorothy Clendenin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Clendenin of North Lima.

"Guest Night" will be observed when members of the Columbiana Mothers club meet at the home of Mrs. J. A. Woodward Monday evening. The program includes a book review, "Big Family," by Bellamy Patridge which will be given by Mrs. A. J. Clancy of Youngstown.

The women of the Presbyterian church met at the church Wednesday afternoon, at which time the association plan was adopted and the constitution accepted. Names for circles were drawn and the initial steps taken with Rev. J. K. McDivitt acting as chairman.

Miss Helen Basler will entertain associate members of Columbiana Music Study club at her home Wednesday evening.

CAVALIERS SCORE WIN OVER PRESBY'S IN OVERTIME TILT

Cavs take Close 22-20 Win; Play Five Men to Three In Extended Contest

The Cavaliers won their sixth game in a row last night at the Memorial building as they mustered all their luck to win over the Presbyterians in an overtime battle, 22-20. Taking a 6-1 lead at the end of the first quarter, the Cavaliers then made the mistake of inserting their second team against the inspired Presbys. In no time at all, the Presbys had taken an 8-7 edge as Paul "Apple" Bloor hooped buckets from all parts of the court.

The Cavs rushed the first string back into the fray but the Presbys retained their lead and led at the intermission, 12-7. In the second quarter they played the Cavs off their feet and constantly tied them up both under the hoop and out in the back court. Just before the end of the frame, Bloor, who had sparked the Presby attack all the way, when out on fouls. At that stage of the game he had accounted for 10 points.

With the Presbys leading by 14-12 going into the final chapter, the Cavs gathered their somewhat shattered forces together for a final spurt which tied the game at the end of the regulation time, 20-20.

Presbys Lose Two Men
With but one minute of the overtime period gone, Bob Wagener was ejected from the game for too many fouls and just seconds later Tom Houlette followed him. Since the Presbys had no more subs, they played more than a minute with only three men. It was a hopeless case and the Cavs won, 22-20.

For the Cavs, it was Don Freed, Clyde "Wink" Miller and Art Horning who did most of the scoring with seven, six, and six points respectively. "Apple" Bloor paced the Cavaliers with 10 points. The Presbys played one of the finest games seen in the Class B circuit for some time as they continually rushed the Cavs in the back court, refusing to give them time enough to take a set shot. On the other hand, the Cavs continually missed easy under-the-basket shots. Their smooth passing game was far below par and nothing was right. The Presbys smashed their attack before it was started throughout the first three periods and into the fourth. Here the Presbys slowed down somewhat and played a more conservative brand of ball.

It was the closest the Cavaliers have come to defeat in their six-game streak.

West Side A. C. Cops
In the other game on the card, the newly organized West Side A. C. C. nipped the Salem Chinas in a close game, 28-25. The outcome was in doubt until late in the last quarter when the West Siders put on an eight point spurt to clinch the win. Wayne Hahn, long shot artist, tallied 10 points to pace the West Side while Tony Julian tied in eight to feature for the Chinas.

The West Siders, with their fine zone defense, should make plenty of trouble for the league's leading teams later in the round.

It was the second straight win for the West Side A. C. and the first loss of the round for the improved Salem Chinas five.

Louis-Thompson May Meet
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—Joe Louis may fight Albert (Turkey) Thompson, Negro heavyweight, in a championship bout next May.

Matchmaker Charles MacDonald said last night negotiations were under way.

Thompson has fought Abe Simon and Tony Musto to draw decisions and was outpointed twice by Bob Liston.

BOWLING RESULTS

The Crescent Machines continued at the top in the Commercial league standings although they lost two to Scott's last night at the Grate alleys. Wilbur Calladine rolled a 212 in his second game for the Crescents.

The second place Zimmerman's five ran into a little tough luck on the league leaders, they picked up one they dropped the second game of their match with the Crescent Jrs. by a single pin. Nevertheless they copied a split match from the Crescents to advance a little toward first place. Glenn Oesch fired games of 218 and 211 but a bad second game prevented his crashing the "600" circle. Feyock rolled a 213 for the losers.

The Jaycees shut out the Trades class to pick up two games on the pace setting Crescent Machines. In their 213 and the assault with a 200 in the middle game. The five men combined to roll a 923 total their last game.

In other matches the Amateur Pros white washed the Recreation, Smith's handed Shasteen's the same treatment and Ohio Bell copped a pair from Kelley's.

The Smith's keggers were red hot as they rolled games of 927 and 935 in their 213 and the assault with a 200 in the middle game. The five men combined to roll a 923 total their last game.

No changes were recorded in the standings of the Electric Furnace league in last night's bowling at the Mesonic temple alleys. The Machineists and Draftsmen, first and third place teams, respectively, dropped two games to Electrical and Purchasing. Houston of Purchasing smashed out a fine 243 his lead off game while Jim Burrell of the Machineists rolled a 201 his last game. Moore of Electrical rolled an even 200 in his last game.

In other matches, Night Shift "A" took two from Night Shift "B". Shipping shutout the Structural on a forfeit and the Office rolled three from the Transformers. Flann of Shipping rolled a 211 his last game.

SPORTS PROGRAMS ARE EXPANDED IN SCHOOLS OF SOUTH

Universities To Carry On Until Curtailment Is Necessary

(By Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Jan. 23.—Intercollegiate athletics in the south may get down to the point of ham sandwiches and day coaches, but you can take it from the men in charge—sports will carry on.

"The impression we've got," says veteran Coach Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech, "is that the government wants us to keep sports going. We're not interested in quality now, but in quantity. We're trying to get more boys out for the teams than ever before."

"Our teams may not travel in style. But we can still give 'em a ham sandwich on a day coach. The buses still run. You can get around, even though it may be necessary to rearrange schedules. Until the government tells us otherwise, we'll carry on."

Talk to any head coach or athletic director in the southern or southeastern conferences and you'll get the same reply: No curtailment until it's absolutely necessary; expansion of athletics wherever possible.

Most colleges have had elaborate intramural programs for many years. All are continuing them with renewed emphasis.

Old Miss Heads Expansion
At the University of Mississippi, where two years of physical education is compulsory, Head Coach Harry Mehre declared in favor of full four years and said Mississippi would expand its program on those lines. South Carolina sounded a similar note.

In Virginia, William & Mary announced addition of several physical education classes; the University of Kentucky, with all physical equipment already in use, announced plans for additional classes. Stepped-up programs also were outlined by the Universities of Florida, Alabama, Tulane, Louisiana State, South Carolina, Clemson, Maryland and Georgia Tech.

Some colleges expressed apprehension for their minor sports. Transportation difficulties drew repeated comment, and Kentucky reported its spring schedules affected by withdrawal from athletics by several small colleges.

Louisiana State's board of supervisors pigeon-holed a proposal for abandonment of all intercollegiate athletics. It kept a weather eye on the future in granting only a one-year contract to Football Coach Bernie Moore.

"Gates" Will Decrease
Meanwhile, a new angle of speculation came from Moore, who predicted disappointing gate receipts from football next fall because of curtailment in use of autos.

The only head coach to be summoned for military service has been Maj. Bob Neyland of Tennessee, recalled to the U. S. engineers. Auburn, however, last three assistant coaches—Porter Grant, Bud McCollum and Bobbie Blake—and expects shortly to lose a fourth, Boops Chambliss.

Tennessee's assistant line coach, Bob Woodruff, is to follow Maj. Neyland to the army engineers next June. Mississippi expects End Coach Vernon (Catfish) Smith to be called shortly by the tank corps and Trainer Jack Stuart joined the navy last week.

12-Year-Old Boy Matches Scores of Famous Golfers

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—Henry MacGregor Hunter shot a 74 at Riviera Country club the other day over a course that is a true test of championship golf.

But a year ago Sam Snead, Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret and Porky Oliver were shooting 74's over this same course in the Los Angeles open.

But Henry MacGregor is just 12 years old. He weighs only 100 pounds, or less, and stands five feet two with the aid of the spikes in his shoes.

National Invitational Tournament Dates Set

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Dates for the fifth annual national invitational college basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden have been set for March 17, 19, 23 and 25.

With eight teams participating, the tournament will be directed by Asa Bushnell, head of the central office for Eastern Intercollegiate athletics.

Keith O'Rourke Competes In Millrose A.A. Carnival

NEW YORK.—Notre Dame will be represented by a mile relay team and high jumper Keith O'Rourke at the Millrose A. A. games Feb. 7 at the Madison Square Garden.

The Irish foursome that raced to victory in the 1941 Drake relays is coming here. O'Rourke consistently leaps 6-6 and also is the Drake champion of a year ago.

SPORT CHATTER

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(Wide World)—The war already has landed some sports folks in places they never expected to be (including the army).

Chicago's colony of major league ball players have formed the "pitch and hit" club to aid in the sale of defense bonds. Ted Lyons is president. First day's ticket sale for the Boston Bruins-Old-Time stars game for the Army relief fund was more than $3,000.

Sportpourri
In addition to his other accomplishments, Joe Louis has become quite an able impromptu speaker. He doesn't go in for many two-syllable words, but he always says something that's appropriate and in good taste.

Dick Barker, the Iowa joust signed as football coach at Franklin and Marshall College, was "drafted" twice to coach Sweden's Olympic wrestlers. According to Bill Killefer, the Phillies are looking for a set of pitchers who can rotate. Seems that's what they always did—face the plate to pitch and then rotate toward the outfield to see where the ball would land.

Today's Guest Star
Francis E. Stan, Washington Star: "The sport (?) that figures to be aided most by the war is wrestling. The burpers play a poor man's game. The racket was dead until the last depression, when it came to life while the $2.20, $4.40, $5.60, etc., sports collapsed, and now there is sinister talk that it will revive."

No Strikes to Spare
When he discovered that six Detroit bowlers had rolled perfect games of early December, W. W. Edgar of the Free Press organized a "300" club to record the perfect games in sanctioned competition. In more than a month since then he hasn't been able to add a new name to the roster.

Boston Ball Clubs Waive Night Games

(By Associated Press)
BOSTON.—Convicted that floodlight equipment will be unavailable for at least another baseball season, President Bob Quinn of the Boston Braves says he is planning to stage one or two twilight games a week for the benefit of defense workers.

"Aided by one hour of daylight saving, the Braves played the Brooklyn Dodgers here until 8:15 p. m. last July 5," he said. "Give us another hour of daylight and we could play until after 9 o'clock in June, July and possibly early August."

Quinn explained that the National league rules do not restrict the starting times of games.

The Red Sox, according to General Manager Eddie Collins, continue opposing to staging night baseball in Boston but would gladly experiment with the twilight brand during the 1942 season.

Hoppe, Cochran to Battle for Three-Cushion Crown

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—If it weren't for Jake Schaefer, Welker Cochran would have ended Willie Hoppe's two-year reign as king of three-cushion billiards by beating the champ tonight.

But all because of Jake, Cochran must down Hoppe not once but twice straight. Cochran's defeat by Schaefer last night—the count was 50 to 28—prevented the San Francisco artist from maintaining a tie for first with the defending titlist.

Lombardi Expecting Cut

SAN FRANCISCO.—Found: A major league baseball player who—right now, at least, isn't expecting a substantial increase this year.

Big Ernie Lombardi, catcher for the Cincinnati Reds, admitted sadly: "I'm kinda expecting a cut."

He batted only .283 last year after leading the National league in hitting in 1938 and batting .318 in 1940.

Pat Comiskey Recovering

NEW YORK.—The cast has been removed from boxing Heavyweight Pat Comiskey's thigh, broken in an automobile accident early in the winter. He still is walking with crutches.

EX-QUAKER STAR MAINSTAY OF U. OF DAYTON FIVE

Charley McCloskey Rated One of Finest Guards In School's History

Playing his third straight year of varsity basketball at the University of Dayton, is Charles "Hook" McCloskey, former Salem High school star. To date McCloskey has scored 53 points and is fourth highest scorer on the squad.

McCloskey, son of Mrs. Catherine McCloskey of 238 Rose ave., is rated by Coach Jim Carter as one of the finest guards to ever attend the Hilltop school. "Hook," as he is known to his teammates and Dayton Flyer rooters, is the possessor of an uncanny ability to break up opponents' offensive threats, and is picked by many to garner "All-State" honors this year.

Dayton is experiencing one of its best seasons since the days when its teams of 1911, '12 and '13 experienced consecutive undefeated seasons.

To date the Flyers have won six contests and lost three. The losses were suffered at the hands of Marshall, three points, Ohio U. and Miami by one-point margins. Dayton in turn has scored wins over Wichita, Wilmington, Wittenberg, Cedarville and Xavier.

McCloskey is a senior business administration student at the university.

Charley played his basketball in Salem in 1934 and 1935 and he was a valuable member of the varsity squad in those years. In 1935, he was a mainstay of the Quaker team which won 16 and lost but two in the regular season for one of the best records ever compiled by a Salem High quintet.

Cincy Cagers Bow To Michigan State

(By Associated Press)
Despite the fact his team was defeated Vince Barr, Ashland college forward, stands out as a star of last night's Ohio college basketball games.

Ashland took a 70-47 trouncing from Ohio Northern in the Ohio conference game at Ashland but Barr made nine goals and six free throws for half his team's points.

Widner, Northern forward, sank 16 points.

Michigan State won its ninth victory in 12 starts at East Lansing, by defeating the University of Cincinnati, 37-30. The Spartans spurted ahead 16-5 in the first 10 minutes and coasted the rest of the way.

Defiance upset Findlay, 54 to 39, for the home team's third victory in nine starts. At Tiffin, Wilberforce defeated Tiffin University, 46-40.

Class A Finals To Be Held At Kent State U. Or South Fieldhouse In Youngstown

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 23.—Commissioner H. R. Townsend mapped today the route Ohio's 1154 high school basketball teams must follow to the state tournaments, a long and withering test which only two squads can survive.

County events for the 952 Class B teams are slated the two week-ends starting Feb. 20, and from then until March 28 the tournament "heat" will be on.

The Class B championship, with 16 teams competing, will be held at Wittenberg college, Springfield, March 19, 20 and 21, with the Class A finals between four survivors scheduled March 27 and 28 at a site still to be named.

However, indications are that the Class A classic will move from Columbus for the first time in 20 years, and will be played at Kent State university or Youngstown South High school.

The 16 qualifiers for the Class A laurels will battle at four different regional tournaments for the finals spots. Dayton will be the site of the meeting of three southwestern and one central district survivor; four from the northwestern district will meet at Findlay; Kent will entertain four of the five northeastern candidates, while Dennison will witness the scrap between two from the eastern district, one from the southeast, and one, drawn by lot, from the northeast.

Sectional tournaments are scheduled the first week in March, and district play the second week. Here are the sites and dates of the various events leading to the state "B" meet, and the regional "A" events: (Number of qualifiers for state finals from district meets shown in parenthesis.)

Central District
Class A sectional-district at Delaware, March 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 13, 14, (1).
Class B sectional-district at Westerville, March 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 11, 12, 14, (2).

Eastern District
Class A sectionals at Dennison, Tiltonsville and Toronto, March 5, 6, 7.
Class B sectionals at Dover, Zanesville, Tiltonsville, Woodsfield, March 5, 6, 7.

Northwestern District
Class A district at Kent State U., March 14, 16, 17, 18, (2); at Euclid Shore, March 4, 5, 6, 7, 13, 14, (1); at Youngstown South, March 5, 6, 7, 12, 13, 14, (2).

Class B sectionals at Ashland, Chagrin Falls, Kent State, Lorain and McDonald, March 5, 6, & 7.

ELWARD REMAINS AS PURDUE COACH

LAFAYETTE Ind., Jan. 23.—A. H. (Mal) Elward has been invited to coach Purdue's football team again next season but without the added worries of being athletic director. Purdue trustees relieved him of the directorship yesterday but retained him as coach until Dec. 31, 1942, at a salary to be determined by President Edward C. Elliott.

U.S. Considered By Expert As Second Most Vulnerable Nation To Incendiary Bombs

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here are the answers, in simple, non-technical language, to the many questions being asked about bombs, written for Wide World by Dr. J. S. Kinney, professor of civil engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.)

By DR. J. S. KINNEY
TROY, N. Y., Jan. 23.—There are five general types of aerial bombs. All except one, poison gas, are in use.

Three of the bomb types are high explosive, classified as demolition, general purpose and fragmentation. The explosive charges in the high explosive bombs vary from about 40 to 60 per cent of the total weight of the missile.

Demolition bombs are used, as the name indicates, to demolish targets. They vary in size from 660 to 4,000 pounds, the most frequently used being the 660 and 1,000 pound weights. Since even the larger bombs generally can carry only one 4,000 pound bomb or two 2,200 bombs, their use is restricted, in comparison with the smaller sizes, and they are used for massive targets, such as canal locks, large buildings and other important military objectives.

Can Penetrate Floors
The general purpose bomb is of intermediate weight, 40 to 500 pounds. These bombs can penetrate the floors of ordinary buildings and explode inside, or may wreck buildings by their blast if they land near the outside.

The average bombardment plane has a capacity of ten 220 pound or four 550 pound general purpose bombs. Being sufficiently effective against a large percentage of targets, these bombs are the types most frequently used.

The fragmentation bomb is small, varying in weight from 20 to 50 pounds. It is principally used against personnel, and fragmentation of the bomb case will scatter bits of steel over a wide area. These bombs have slight penetration powers and relatively little cover is required to afford protection from them.

A high explosive bomb is destructive as a result of actions which are produced in approximately the following order: (1) impact; (2) penetration; (3) blast; (4) fragmentation; (5) cratering; and (6) rupture or mining effect.

When a high explosive charge in a bomb detonates, each cubic inch of explosive is at once converted into about 1,000 cubic inches of gas, which then expands at least ten times that amount, so that upon detonation the high explosive charge expands to about 10,000 times its original volume.

This great pressure causes the bomb case to burst into fragments, compressing the surrounding air and causing a shock wave or blast. Roughly speaking, a 9-inch brick wall is required to withstand the blast effect of a 550-pound general purpose bomb exploding 50 feet from the wall.

Bomb Cases Shatter
The fragmentation of the bomb case is very damaging to personnel, a small 30-pound fragmentation bomb spraying about 1,400 fragments capable of disabling a person hit by one.

The radius within which a person will be disabled if struck by a bomb fragment is about 200 feet for a small 110-pound general purpose bomb and increases to 2,400 feet, or nearly half a mile, for some of the fragments of a large 4,000 pound demolition bomb.

Of the two types of chemical-incendiary and poison gas—bombs, the incendiaries have been used with great success in the present war, if we can call an instrument capable of great destruction a success. They vary in weight from about two to 50 pounds, although the smallest size has been most successful. They consist of a priming charge of thermite placed in a magnesium casing.

Upon detonation, the thermite is ignited and burns fiercely for about one minute at a temperature of about 3,000 degrees centigrade. The burning thermite ignites the magnesium casing. The magnesium casing, which probably is the greatest source of danger, burns for about 15 minutes and will ignite anything inflammable within a radius of perhaps five feet.

Emits Flame Jets
During the first minute, while the thermite is burning, jets of flame are emitted from vent holes, and pieces of molten magnesium may be thrown within a radius of 40 feet. The thermite cannot be extinguished by smothering, but the magnesium may be so extinguished.

One large bomber can carry 1,000 to 2,000 of the light two-pound bombs. They will penetrate ordinary roof construction.

It is well to note at this time that some military writers have rated the United States the second most vulnerable country as regards incendiary bombs. Japan has been rated the most vulnerable, although this is not especially so as regards Tokyo itself.

Gas bombs release two types of gases—persistent and non-persistent. Non-persistent gases generally result from materials which evaporate quickly when released. They probably will not remain in effective concentrations in the open for more than about ten minutes. Arsenical smokes, chlorine and phosgene are of this type.

Persistent gases are the result of substances which evaporate slowly. Persistent gases may remain in effective concentrations in the open for hours and in cold weather may be dangerous for days and even weeks. Mustard gas and Lewisite are persistent gases.

Gases are classified according to physical effects as tear gases, lung irritant gases, blistering gases and respiratory irritant gases. Tear gases, being mild, are not used in warfare.

Breathing Is Attacked
Lung irritant gases, specifically chlorine and phosgene, attack the breathing system, cause severe smarting or burning sensation in the nose and throat and a sense of suffocation. Edema of the lungs usually results, and death may follow.

Blistering gases, as Lewisite and mustard, cause blistering of the skin. No pain is noticeable at contact, but a few hours after exposure the damage becomes apparent. A drop of these gases will penetrate leather shoes and produce a blister an inch in diameter.

Respiratory irritant gases, usually produced from arsenical compounds, produce intense pain in the respiratory system, followed by severe nausea. These effects are not in themselves serious, and soon pass if the afflicted person is in fresh air.

Unfortunately, however, these gases will penetrate most gas masks and the resulting nausea forces their removal, thus exposing personnel to the deadly effects of blistering and lung irritant gases, which ordinarily do not penetrate masks.

Gas bombs vary in size from 22 to 550 pounds. The latest method of disseminating gas, however, is by spraying from an aircraft. A single attack-type plane, under favorable conditions, can cover an area 1,000 yards long and yards wide with an effective concentration of mustard gas.

BOSTON—After a 30-year wait, Earle B. Delano hopes to get a college degree. In 1912 he left Brown university to become a newspaper correspondent. Now 52 years old, he is enrolled as an undergraduate at Boston university. Delano hopes to teach dramatics and speech when he graduates.
